

Since 1999 Bee Gees Fever have been wowing audiences across the UK and Europe with their stunning live tribute to the music of the Brothers Gibb.

From the soulful ballads Too Much Heaven and How Deep Is Your Love through to the high energy disco classics such as Stayin' Alive and Night Fever, the band faithfully recreate the songs that have helped make the Bee Gees musical legends over the last four decades. With a full show of over 2 hours, there is something for everyone from every era of the Bee Gees glittering career, and create a striking visual tribute too as they pay tribute to the 'Saturday Night Fever' image of the late 70's.

Unlike some tribute acts, all the songs are performed totally live, no backing tapes or sequences, just five guys, their voices and their instruments. This gives the show a raw energy which will get even the most reserved feet up on the dancefloor. The band have also performed for many blue chip organisations and provide a party atmosphere for any corporate event.

2003 saw the band perform to theatre and festival crowds both in the UK and in Europe and work with the likes of Suzi Quatro, Hot Chocolate, The Manfreds and the Foundations plus a host of today's brightest chart stars such as Liberty X, Atomic Kitten, Gareth Gates and Busted.

They also performed at the Bee Gees Fan Clubs Convention in Manchester, to an audience made up of fans from all over the world and some special guests such as Blue Weaver, the keyboard player in the Bee Gees disco era line-up and responsible for co-writing many of the 70's classics. 2004 started brightly with the band being asked to headline a festival in Emmen, Holland on a bill which also featured The Troggs and Chris Farlowe, and they have continued to play to packed audiences all over the UK.

"A quite stunning tribute, they set the place on fire" John Simcox, organiser of Official Bee Gees fan club convention held in Walsall, Oct '99.

"One of the country's top tributes. A fantastic night guaranteed." Robin R 'n' B Club

"One of the few bands to sell out on their debut. And now I can see why. Brilliant." The Limelight Club, Crewe

If you never saw the original Bee Gees live then see "Bee Gees Fever" the next best thing. I saw them at the last Bee Gees convention and suddenly I was back on tour 1979 and thought the boys had gone onstage without me. Blue Weaver – Bee Gees keyboard player and co-writer

Bee Gees Fever hit Brierley Hill when the new Bee Gees tribute band made its debut at The Shed.

The five piece line up took to the stage in striking white suits and belted out fine renditions of classics like Jive Talkin', How Deep is Your Love, Words and many others.

The lead singer was great as heartthrob front man Barry Gibb, as the night progressed his voice got better and better until it was impossible to tell the difference between him and the real thing.

The band finished with a fantastic version of You Should Be Dancing, which simply could not have got any better. A stunning debut.

The band have also featured on Radio 1, BBC Radio WM, BBC Radio Stoke, Pulse FM and have been quoted in The Sun newspaper & Loaded magazine.
